Written by: Sofía García Martínez

Writer's note:

Welcome delegates to the FIFA committee of LIMUN 2027. As this is a crisis committee a position paper is not required, however; we strongly suggest that the delegates research as much information as they can. Delegates will not be representing countries, they will be representing their national football team. A crisis will be given on the day of the event, we recommend researching your assigned federation and FIFA in general. Good luck delegates and see you on LIMUN 2027.

I. COMMITTEE BACKGROUND

The Fédération Internationale de Football Association is not an official committee in the United Nations. However they do have their own committees that advise the FIFA Council, manage internal governance, and enforce rules. These groups handle judicial tasks, tournaments, and general operations. FIFA was founded on May 21, 1904, in Paris, France. Seven European countries, Belgium, Denmark, France, the Netherlands, Spain, Sweden, and Switzerland, created the organization to unify international football rules and oversee global matches.

II. HISTORY OF THE TOPIC

a. Introduction of the topic

Racism is an important problem that has been seen not only in the World Cup of 2026 but in many other FIFA events. This is completely against FIFA rules as they have a zero tolerance policy and take the topic very seriously. Key rules include the mandatory three-step referee protocol, severe fines, and a new rule punishing players who cover their mouths during confrontations, known as the law of Vinicius.

b. Evolution of the topic

Racism in football remains a critical issue, highlighted by high-profile incidents, online abuse, and fan behavior during major international tournaments like the 2026 FIFA World Cup, alongside tighter protocols introduced by FIFA to combat discrimination. Public figures and officials have faced condemnation for racist comments directed at star players, such as dehumanizing remarks targeting France's Kylian Mbappé. Incidents involving discriminatory gestures and fan altercations have occurred at matches, including an investigation launched after an Argentina supporter racially targeted streamer iShowSpeed.

III. QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER

1. What is my federation's position in this matter?
2. Has my national team committed any acts of racism?
3. What new rules could be added to stop racism?
4. What has FIFA done to solve this problem whereas it is in 2026 or other events?
5. How is this affecting football in general?
6. What happens if the three step protocol is not followed?
7. Why is this still happening?
8. What should happen if this continues to happen?
9. Has my federation received any racism? and if so, how did it react?
10. How to stop fans from being racist?
